Vote in Special Bond Election On Tuesday of Next Week

The time for the special election on the Expressway Bonds is drawing near.

The main object of The Canyon News in printing articles both for and against the project is for the purpose of getting out the voters. We have talked with both those who favor and those who oppose the bond issues of Randall county and the city of Amarillo, and wish to assure all readers that both groups will not be satisfied with less than a heavy vote. The question of issuing bonds is too serious not to be seriously considered. Yet bond issues are usually passed by a slim majority.

We are not fighting the battles of Amarillo, and will leave the issue clearly up to the people of that city as to whether they shall vote for or against the bond issues which are to be presented on May 11. The Expressway bonds are only a part of the issues to be presented to the voters.

The Canyon News has been requested to publish arguments for and against the bond issue in this the closing edition of the paper which will be circulated among the voters. We shall be glad to do so if and when some voters who have interest in the election will write us. You will see the results of this agreement on another page.

As far as the Randall county bonds are concerned, we shall leave their defeat or their passage strictly up to the voters. You have read and studied the issues of an Expressway as much as we have.

A few days ago one of the men who was responsible for the "Question and Answer" article which we published two weeks ago, came by The News office and remarked that some of the things said at that time sounded pretty silly in the light of recent developments. This is in the same category of some of the statements being made at the present time. Personally we are not yet convinced that the Expressway will save the users as much money as was originally set out; neither are we convinced that the bond issue to buy the right-of-way at this time will be such a tragedy.

Granted that property values are high in South Amarillo and in Randall county, but these values will be higher in the future than they are now, provided this area shall continue to grow.

The thing which grips us is the fact that the State has demanded a right-of-way through Randall county, which will move practically all of the houses and improvements between Canyon and Amarillo. What this additional land will cost is a mere guess on the part of any person. "Perhaps the State will lease this additional right-of-way to farmers for grazing purposes," stated a farmer living north of Canyon Thursday. "Aside from a four lane highway, what does the State Highway Commission want with all of this land?" he asked.

As we stated early in the campaign, we cannot see how the bond issue will carry in Randall county with a necessary two-thirds majority. Maybe the election will be one sided; and again it may be a landslide one way or the other. We have no way of knowing about the feelings of the voters.

The main thing that we are interested in is—GO TO THE POLLS AND VOTE MAY 11.

Doctored Pictures Are Not New in Photographic Field

It was amazing that a fake picture should be introduced in the hearing of the Secretary of the Army and Senator McCarthy. Yet, the American people have become accustomed to such stunts as this pulled off by the Wisconsin senator.

It was rather amazing to the American public to read of the elaborate set-up for the hearing by the television companies—and to read the results. The hearing was such a farce the first day that the sponsors of the television programs cancelled out and the pictured programs were discontinued after the very first day.

Those who read and listened to the testimony given in the so-called trial are amazed at the foolishness which went on. As we stated a few weeks ago, probably there were more people sympathetic with McCarthy than the people realized. Yet the antics of the Senator and his chief aid has sent to the bottom of the list his following throughout the nation.

We have seen too many pictures which have been "doctored" to put much confidence in photography. There used to prevail the feeling that pictures will not lie, but there is no way of telling what the man behind the camera will do to his picture when it is developed.

Rain Has Missed Some Section—Irrigation Follows Generally

Rain has pretty much missed the Southwest part of Randall county this spring.

Walter Graham says that he has had very little rain, and none fell last week.

Joe Byrd sold his cattle because of the last of moisture, and the fact that rains missed his place.

Irrigation wells have been sunk at various places over this great expanse of Randall county. Most farmers take the position that so long as there is water under their land that they were entitled to get the full benefit of this water.

Irrigation is a questionable subject. The water level is declining throughout this area. But who can blame farmers who seek to make as much out of irrigation as they can. The water is there, regardless of questionable quantity, and farmers who use the water have profited, while those who have not used the water have suffered with no crops.

Old Age Slips Up and Wrecks The House in Which Men Live

In his extreme old age, John Quincy Adams was one day slowly and feebly walking down a street in Boston. An old friend met him and, shaking his trembling hand, asked:

"And how is John Quincy Adams today?" "Thank you," said the ex-President, "John Quincy Adams is well, quite well, thank you. But the house in which he lives is at present becoming quite dilapidated. It is tottering at its foundations. Time and the seasons have nearly destroyed it. Its roof is pretty well worn out. Its walls are much shattered, and it trembles with every wind. The old tenement is becoming almost uninhabitable, and I think John Quincy Adams will have to move out of it soon. But he himself is quite well, quite well."

President Eisenhower Is a Different Kind of President

President Eisenhower is handling such delicate and possibly scandalous problems as the housing mess, the Oppenheimer affair, the McCarthy-Army feud and major policy matters in such an open and forthright way that friendly but amused politicians chide him with the sin of "stupid honesty." Neither he nor his businessmen's Cabinet play the game in accord with time-tested and orthodox rules.

When an FBI investigation disclosed laxity and corruption in the Housing Administration, he fired his own appointee, Guy T. O. Hollyday, although the most serious criticism of him is carelessness. Albert M. Cole, the Housing Administrator, still describes the Baltimore banker as a "fine Christian gentleman."

Despite Dr. J. R. Oppenheimer's world eminence and Einstein's sponsorship, and despite the general feeling that he was merely an incredibly naive person, the White House did not hesitate to discipline him at the slightest suggestion that he was a security risk. Eisenhower sidelined the nuclear scientist with full recognition that it would enhance Sen. Joe McCarthy's prestige.

In these specific episodes, as well as in the field of domestic and foreign policy, Ike has supplied a strange and dramatic contrast to F.D.R. and Harry S. Truman.

Roosevelt's dislike of "scenes" led him to retain misfits and unfits, such as Wallace, Morgenthau, Ickes, etc. He gave first thought to the effect of unhappy disclosures on himself and the party. He condoned or covered up their personal and official ineptitudes.

Truman branded Nixon's pursuit of Alger Hiss as a "red herring." He scoffed at charges and reports that the Whites, Coes and other pinkos were dangerous men. When graft and favoritism were exposed in Internal Revenue and RFC, he declared that "All my appointees are honest." Ike gets rid of them, even though they are "fine Christian gentlemen."

Truman tolerated gifts of costly but questionable mink coats and deep freezes to members of his official household. Ike will not permit the humblest stenographers at the White House to accept a carton of cigarettes or a bottle of liquor suspected of tainted generosity.

Unlike his predecessors, Eisenhower shows no fear of admitting and correcting mistakes, not covertly but openly. He does not suffer from charges of inconsistency. He does not shrink from antagonizing powerful and organized voting elements, such as the farm and labor blocs, racial groups, extreme liberals or narrow conservatives, Middle West isolationists or Fifth Avenue "give-aways," the peace or war factions.

As his fireside warning against "fears" demonstrated, he refuses to be rushed or panicked. He will take no shoving around from Georgi Malenkov in Europe or Southeast Asia, or from Walter P. Reuther, CIO president, on the politico-labor front.

He stands firm where many politicians wish he would compromise. He will not yield to the George-Humphrey-Reuther insistence on such a popular issue as higher tax exemptions. He opposes the high and rigid price supports beloved by farmers. He favors only a moderate pay raise for federal employees. He will not be stampeded into a slambang, antidepressant program.

Roosevelt and Truman generally heeded these political pleas, regardless of their effect on deficits, budgets and taxes. Votes came first.

Eisenhower's disregard of political amenities extends to every realm. He permits Dulles to lecture Israel, alienating the pro-Zionists. When Humphrey's "hard money" policy proved deflationary, it was changed overnight with apologies. When the Major Peress discharge showed that the Army's security system was weak, Wilson pleaded guilty and promised improvement.

Several weeks ago Ike said that employment of ground troops in Southeast Asia would be a "disaster." Now, active intervention has become a possibility.

It is small wonder that GOP graybeards ask themselves what manner of man is this Eisenhower, anyway!

French People Have No Will To Fight or to Pay Taxes

Each day we listen for the date when the French in Indochina will give up the fight and surrender to the Chinese Reds who are fighting the battle against the garrison at Dien Bien Phu.

It makes the blood of every American boil to consider how the people of France have ignored the garrison who have been outnumbered by the Reds.

The people of France have not supported the seven year war against the Reds. They have been calling for help of the United Nations without making an effort to save the day for themselves.

Vice President Nixon stirred up a hornet's nest when he stated that it might be necessary for America to send troops into this war. Why? To defeat the Reds, we are told.

As a matter of record, no one in Washington seems very ambitious to defeat anyone. We had the war in Korea won, but General MacArthur was recalled and Truman refused to allow our troops to whip the Reds.

What would be the advantage of America sending troops against the Reds if they are to be stalemated and no war is to be won? The French want the French troops to win, well and good, but with the United Nations doing the fighting for them.

The man in the street of Paris considers it an insult to ask him to pay taxes. Whoever heard of a war being won without the people straining their resources by paying taxes?

The Reds would laugh up their sleeves if the UN sent troops into Indochina which were defeated. They would crow that the Chinese were stronger than the UN, and would make it stick. In the meanwhile, do not forget that there are plenty of Nationalist troops who have never seen war, and so far have never been called upon to fight the Reds.

A fine kettle of fish!

As the bathing season approaches we find ourselves wondering what can be different about ladies' suits this year?

When the government is spending over 30 billion dollars on defense it is difficult to have a depression.

Contrary to some of our friends' opinions, the weight of the world is not balanced on their shoulders.

When the great men of this earth are revealed in the happy hereafter, there will be many surprises.

TOO LATE NOW

After recovering slightly from the shock of the budget, one employer called the staff together and explained that there must be further reductions in wages.

"It means we shall all have to tighten our belts," he added. Then, after a moment's pause, he turned to a junior clerk, who did not appear to be listening. "Do you understand what I'm saying, Smith?"

"Yes, sir," replied Smith, "but it's no good telling me that. My belt broke at the budget before last."

IZAAK WALTON'S DREAM

"Let's see your bait?" asked the native as the discouraged angler was about to give up.

The angler showed his minnows. The native fastened one by the tail to the angler's hook, pulled a bottle of corn liquor from his pocket, poured it into the bucket, "dunked" the minnow in it for a moment, and said, "Now try it."

Almost immediately there was a heavy strike and after a brief struggle a 15-pound bass was landed. Not on the hook of course—the minnow had the bass by the throat.

CHEAP VACATION

Three men sat on a park bench. The man in the middle sat quietly, as though asleep, but the men on each side were going through the motions of fishing. With deadly seriousness they'd cast, jerk their line gently and swiftly wind imaginary reels. A policeman sauntered over, shook the man in the middle and asked, "Are these two nuts your friends?"

"Yes, officer."

"Well, get them out of here then."

"Right away, officer," said the man and began rowing vigorously.

Back in 1948 when Eastland County was witnessing a real oil rush, a visitor in Eastland who sauntered into the Connell Hotel lobby after supper and looked over in the corner, probably would see a quiet, small, slender man with snow-white mustache and goatee—A. H. Johnson, former postmaster and a resident of the county for more than half a century. During the oil revival, he had an unusual specialty—tracing down people.

In 1917, oil was discovered at Ranger and the county witnessed a tremendous oil boom, with thousands of persons swarming in, hundreds of wells drilled, millions of dollars spent for development. Then the boom ended. Years passed and in 1948, a new rush hit. Acid had been unknown in the earlier days. Also deeper drilling revealed new strata. So there was a strong demand for leases.

An oil man, going over the courthouse records, would find one of those old mineral interest transactions. In order to lease the land, he had to get in touch with someone who had been in the county for only a few weeks or months and that was 30 years previous. Even if the man's old address was known, he could have moved half a dozen times since then; he might have died, in which case the heirs had to be located. Or if the investor was a woman—and one woman invested $100,000—she might have married or remarried. Johnson would set out on the search and, when he found the person he was seeking, astonished him with the news that he had cash for him because of a tract that the individual had long since forgotten all about.

Born in Ohio, Johnson came to Texas in '97 to become connected with a bank in Cisco. In 1914 he moved to Eastland because he had bought an abstract business. C. U. Connellee, the founder of Eastland, owned the other abstract company and they decided to merge, with Johnson running the consolidated business.

"For three years I worked for nothing and boarded myself," he says, with a twinkle in his alert, blue eyes—meaning that the abstract business had almost no business.

He personally posted the records on all land transactions—and then oil was struck in Eastland County! Two major oil companies employed him to get up leases. He could tell for memory whether a piece of land had already been leased.

The abstract office was filled with men clamoring for action. The cost of running the office jumped to $3,500 a month—but Johnson didn't mind as the gross business for one year was $100,000.

After the boom, Johnson—who had sold the abstract business—served as postmaster from 1922 to 1934.

He has worn the "Kentucky Colonel" mustache and goatee ever since he was 26.

After having met at the Lowes home, the group was led into the beautiful yard to begin their hunt. Linda found the first prize egg and Beth Jarrett the second prize.

When all the eggs hidden here had been found Rose Ellen led the guests to the Parker yard where the first prize egg was found by Jan Jarnagin and the second prize by Rose Ellen.

First prizes were a rooster and a lamb. Second prizes were alphabet stamping sets.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Lowes and Mrs. Parker on the terrace at the Parker home to Bobby Kay Parsons, Sally Nester, Jan and Jill Jarnagin, Beth Jarrett, Karen Colombo, Madana Hut-ton, Jo Nell Dain from Dumas, Ginger and Sandy Brown from Kansas, Margaret Louder, Karen Stoelzing, Kay Dean Barnard, Linda and Rose Ellen.

WOMAN'S BOOK CLUB ENDS YEAR'S STUDY OF RELIGIONS

The Woman's Book Club held its final study session on religions of the world on last Wednesday, when Mrs. Ray Campbell presented a paper on "Our American Heritage," stressing changes and dangers to which the American system is exposed at the present time, and calling attention to the continuing validity of the religious and political philosophy of the founding fathers.

"Our American Religious Heritage" was discussed by Mrs. T. V. Reeves, who placed emphasis on the growing concepts of religious freedom and separation of church and state, and conflicting religious philosophies in their relation to these concepts.

A lively business session followed at which Miss Edna Graham presided. Mrs. Frank Kimbrough announced that the next meeting will be held in the Branding Iron Theatre, at which time each club member may bring two guests to hear a book review which will be given by Mrs. Lee Foster.

Miss Irene Angel was welcomed back into the club after an absence of several years.

Mrs. Lee Foster reported on the Seventh District Convention which she attended at Dalhart, and Miss Darthula Walker reported on her task of assembling two complete files of yearbooks, and asked members who had copies of old yearbooks to help fill in the gaps in the collection.

Present at the program were Mesdames Ben Beck, R. A. Bellah, Campbell, H. C. Campfield, A. A. Clark, James P. Cornette, L. A. Donnell, Lon Fanning, Foster, Joe Gibson, Lige Frieze, Joseph Findley, Graham, Charles Harter, A. B. Holt, Kimbrough, T. H. Knighton, Michael Morris, Reeves, T. B. AAUW President Addresses Grads

"The American Association of University Women has been working to create educational opportunities for women ever since the first women earned degrees in the United States in 1861," Mrs. Erwin Oschner, president of the Texas division, told the girls and women who are being graduated in the Class of 1954 of the Canyon High School and West Texas State College.

The occasion was the annual reception which the Canyon branch, AAUW, held at Cousins Hall Monday night honoring the girls and young women.

Mrs. Charles Harter, local president, introduced Mrs. Oschner, and Mrs. M. U. Lively, president of the Amarillo branch, who was a special guest. During the reception punch was served by Miss Darthula Walker and Dr. Leta Boswell.

Commuter Has Say About E-way

Following is my opinion on the Expressway controversy:

I am a citizen, tax payer and a commuter. I am opposed to the E-way. We do not need it as the population and traffic will not justify it. There is no doubt that the present 3 lane highway should be made into a 4 lane as it is very dangerous as it is. I believe a 4 lane will handle the traffic easily and at a lot less cost. I do not think the gas saved is any point at all.

I was in California recently and had the privilege of driving over the new Free-Way in Los Angeles. It was very nice, in fact so nice that we were clear through town before we knew it and we had planned on seeing the town! I can't see how it made any more parking spaces though. On the way back, over in Arizona, the highway would divide on the outskirts of the towns going through on one way streets which worked wonderful.

I think Canyon is the best town anywhere and the people are the best. What is good for them is good for me. We need planned progress and it is my belief that we need some other things more than we need an E-way. We need a new court house, more farm roads, and yes, even lower taxes. As far as I know, no one had even thought of us needing an Expressway until the State Highway Department said take it or else. I do not think that is a very Democratic way and will cause the people to reject the issue.

Shivers States Case of Texas

Governor Allan Shivers, just returned from the White House Governors' Conference, has expressed confidence that the federal government will liberalize emergency drought aid and that Texans will be able to find long-range solutions to their water shortage and soil erosion problems.

The Governor's recommendations to President Eisenhower included a one-year moratorium on any shift from fixed price supports. The 90 per cent parity policy should be continued to assure drought-stricken farmers of good prices, he said.

Shivers also recommended: Loans to small businessmen in the drought area enabling them to restock their merchandise and continue their present credit policy toward local farmers and ranchers;

Loans to farmers and ranchers for living expenses and operation of their farms and ranches;

Soil conservation payments for immediate steps to stop wind erosion and dust storms;

Liberalization of FHA loan terms so repayments can be stretched out over 10 years; and A land management program, under the sponsorship of the soil Conservation Service, on a long-range basis to prevent future wind erosion.

Meanwhile, Shivers noted, various state agencies are continuing to work on the problem. The Water Resources Committee, established by the Legislature last year on the Governor's recommendation, is continuing to work on proposals to be submitted to the next regular session of the Legislature.

SUICIDE LEAVES FORTUNE

Nyack, N. Y. — Police are puzzled as to why Raymond Jones, World War II veteran, hanged himself in the rear of his tiny candy-nut store, which he took over when his parents died. A check of the premises turned up: Coins in a soda-water box totaling $1,248.24; old cigar boxes stuffed with $22,230 in bills; two savings accounts of $25,908 and $18,740.47, respectively; a checking account of nearly $4,600 more. Jones also kept a safe-deposit box at a bank and police plan to check another account in a bank at nearby Pearl River. Jones has no known relatives.

Permanent Air Force Academy Base Is Sought by 400 Communities

By HARRY DENT

WASHINGTON — Speculation over selection of a permanent site for the new Air Force Academy is reaching a new high in 400 United States communities that are under study by the five-man commission named to choose the site.

At present the commission is on an inspection trip to a number of the proposed locations. The itinerary will be made as the tour progresses. Following the trip, the commission will consider additional site applications that are expected to be submitted before April 21 and then offer recommendations to Air Force Secretary Harold Talbott.

If one selection is unanimous, that will be the spot. If not, Secretary Talbott will choose the location from among the top three recommended to him.

The major factors to be considered in selection of the site include (1) at least 15,000 acres of land; (2) level and beautiful topography for the national monument; (3) community aspects such as educational, recreational, cultural, religious facilities; (4) a four-seasonal climate without extremes of heat or cold is desirable; (5) an adequate and dependable supply of water is essential; (6) electric power and natural gas or other fuel will be required; (7) convenience of the site with respect to transportation systems; (8) cost and preparation of the site; and (9) extent to which other air traffic might interfere with flight training.

Secretary Talbott says the site selection is still wide open. The commission will be guided but not bound, he says, by earlier selection boards. The first board, headed by Gen. Spaatz, once narrowed the list to seven possibilities.

By LYNDON B. JOHNSON
U. S. Senator

Action is shaping up on the Number One Texas problem — water.

There is an increasing awareness of the vital need for a solution to this issue.

I have been working on this problem ever since I entered the Senate. My first major act as a Senator was a request for a comprehensive study of Texas Water reports by the Reclamation Bureau. That study remains today the only over-all attempt to solve our water difficulties. It has led to all of the other programs that have been put forward in the last two years.

At this time, I am seeking action on my proposals to build small, upstream dams. These would tackle the problem at the source of most of our difficulties.

Meanwhile, pending long range measures, action is proceeding on other fronts.

At the time this is written, there is a bill pending before the Senate to release 15 million dollars for wind erosion payments. Its chances for passage are excellent — it may be law by the time you read this letter!

This measure has been urged by the Governors of the "dust bowl" states. It would authorize payments for deep plowing (sometimes called chiseling) of the soil. Payments would cover cost but could not exceed one dollar per acre.

The bill would be a healthy first step towards recovery from soil erosion. But other steps are needed! Farmers have exhausted their capital in months of battling the drought. Some form of rehabilitation is in order! Neither must we forget the communities which have been set back by the long, dry weather.

But above all, we must realize that any break in the drought is only part of a cycle! What has happened before can happen again. The drought can return and reap another harvest of misery — unless we are prepared.

We must get down to some basic fundamentals. The good Lord has entrusted to us a certain amount of natural resources. The most precious are soil and water. Without them, we cannot live. Without them, there can be no future for ourselves and our children.

We cannot increase those resources no matter what we do. We can only make intelligent use of the resources we have! If we exercise our God-given intelligence, they will last indefinitely for ourselves and our children. We can even increase their yield. But if we sit by idly while they blow away, there will be no future! At the present rate of population expansion, we will feel the pinch in less than a generation!

What can we do? We can build dams that will hold back the flood waters and leave our topsoil intact. We can build reservoirs that will store water as though it were more precious than rubies—which it is! We can step up our research into converting fresh water from sea water. We can investigate rain-making further — so we can dump the moisture in the air on dry — rather than sodden — land.

Above all, we can become water conscious! We have plenty of plans. We have plenty of skill. What we need is action! Action will come when we are determined and that can't be too soon!

A Crossroads

Indo-China is still the crossroads of American foreign policy! After weeks of anxious debate, a clear-cut solution is still eluding our best-informed military and diplomatic leaders.

Only one thing is clear. Almost every American is hoping and praying that it will not end in another war to be fought by our young men. I share these prayers. I pray that all of us working together can find the course that will save our youth from their third armed conflict in a generation.

Old-Age Assistance

Two years ago, I was co-author of legislation which increased Federal public assistance payments to States for aid to the aged, blind and disabled by $5 a month and to dependent children by $3 a month.

This increase was for two years. Unless action to extend it is taken during this session, it will expire September 30.

Legislation to extend the increase has been introduced in the Senate. The bills are in the Senate Finance Committee, but I am informed that no action will be taken until the House passes a bill.

House Bill

House Resolution 7200, by Congressman Reed of New York, does not provide for extension of the $5 per month increase in old-age assistance payments.

In fact, this bill sets up a new formula for Federal assistance. Under this formula, Texas would lose $8,400,000 per year (after next April 1) in Federal aid for old-age assistance.

That money would either have to be made up in new State taxes, or the needy old people would see their assistance checks reduced. Many of these fine senior citizens, to whom Texas owes so much, are having a hard time getting by on the grants being made them now. A reduction in those grants would bring hardships to many.

I have maintained, throughout my service in Congress, that the obligation owed to our senior citizens must be fully recognized and adequately met. That feeling will govern my attitude toward Federal legislation affecting old-age assistance.

Housing

I was glad to be able to help in getting through the Senate a resolution making an appropriation for an investigation of the Federal Housing Program by the Committee on Banking and Currency.

I am with Senator Byrd and Senator Capehart in their demand for a full and impartial investigation of this matter. The charges being made threaten to destroy public confidence in the whole housing program. I believe a thorough study is essential.

Now it costs less to "talk it over by long distance"

Long distance telephone calls have always been a real bargain.

Now that Congress has reduced the excise tax on those calls, it costs even less to "talk it over by long distance."

No part of the tax reduction goes to the telephone company. You get the full benefit — so most long distance calls now cost you 12% less than they did.

Next time... why wonder or worry? Talk it over by long distance and be sure.

NOW...AN EVEN BIGGER BARGAIN

Local service also costs less. Excise tax cut reduces your cost approximately 5%.

AUSTIN: Texas politics started with a rush as Governor Allan Shivers broke a log jam by announcing that he would ask the voters for an unprecedented third term.

Actually, Shivers is now in his third term; he took over as the state's chief executive upon the death of Governor Beauford Jester in July, 1949.

When his present term is ended, he will have served longer than any other governor — five years and five months.

Looming as Shivers' chief opposition were Ralph Yarborough, Austin attorney who ran for governor in 1952; and Reuben Senterfitt of San Saba, speaker of the House of Representatives.

Both held up their formal announcements for several days after Shivers made his intentions known.

Yarborough is a loyalist Democrat who will ask for the support of those voters who went along with Adlai Stevenson in the last presidential race.

Senterfitt is a conservative who differed with Shivers over several issues during the last special session of the Legislature.

Officially entered in the governor's race was J. J. Holmes, an Austin contractor.

Congressman Lloyd Bentsen, who recently announced that he would not try for re-election, had been considered a potential candidate for governor if Shivers did not run, said he would seek no political office this year.

Others who had been considered as possible gubernatorial material dropped out of the picture prior to Shivers' announcement.

Lieutenant Governor Ben Ramsey, Agriculture Commissioner John C. White, and Attorney General John Ben Shepperd will ask for another term in their present offices.

Opposition Develops

As Ramsey entered his race for a third term, he had two opponents.

Representative George T. Hinson of Mineola filed for a place on the ballot and said he would make an active campaign. He favors increased taxes on natural gas pipelines.

C. T. Johnson, Austin insurance man, is also a candidate who has been traveling over the state and meeting the voters.

Senator A. M. Akin of Paris who had been discussed as a possible contender in the Lieutenant Governor's race announced that instead he would run for re-election to the Senate.

Water Is Topic

Water conservation was a prime subject for the political speakers.

That problem is one of the state's biggest, and influenced him in deciding whether to run for governor again, Shivers told reporters.

He said that in his opinion Texas has sufficient water if the supply is conserved, adding:

"Texas can solve its own water problems. It ought to be done in large part on the local and state level."

Backing for Shivers came from Guy C. Jackson, president of the Texas Water Conservation Association.

Jackson said he believes that the governor "plans to go all out with his usual energy to see that the next session of the legislature dedicates itself to an increase, patriotic study and ultimate solution of our water situation."

Yarborough, speaking at Hempstead, said that the answer to the water problem "is action, not a continual bickering between the State and Federal Government." He added:

"The State Government is wasting its energy and killing time by continuing to call the Federal Government names."

C. T. Johnson, as part of his platform, proposed the construction of 100,000 small dams in Northwest Texas to hold the rainfall.

He also recommended a canal to connect 10 Texas rivers and provide an interchange of water to balance irregular flow.

Senator Lyndon B. Johnson also urged thousands of small dams in the upland areas of Texas for water storage and protection against floods.

Race for Senate

Senator Johnson drew opposition in the person of Representative Dudley T. Dougherty of Beeville, wealthy rancher and oil man.

Dougherty cranked up his campaign by sending to Johnson in Washington a telegram asking him some questions. Dougherty wanted to know:

Does Johnson approve the use of U. S. troops in Indo-China?

Does Johnson favor sharing atomic secrets with other nations?

Will Johnson assist in the investigation of federal loans on Texas hotels and apartments?

Justices Will Run

Elsewhere on the political front, Associate Justices Few Brewster of Temple and Clyde E. Smith of Smithville announced for re-election as members of the Texas Supreme Court.

Chief Justice J. E. Hickman said he would file. The other six justices still have parts of their elective terms to serve.

Most members of the legislature will seek re-election.

Martin Dies, of Lufkin, has filed for re-election as Congressman-at-Large.

Teacher Pay Boost

Passed by the special session of the Legislature, a bill to increase Texas public school teachers' pay by $402 per year was signed by the governor.

Present for the ceremony were House and Senate sponsors of the bill and members of a committee that worked out the compromise plan for teacher pay.

Governor Shivers already has signed a tax bill raising the money for increased teacher pay and other purposes.

Close the Gaps

E. H. Thornton, Jr., chairman of the state highway commission, told a Kaufman County delegation that the commission's policy is to complete gaps in the farm road system before beginning new routes.

Thornton's statement was in response to a Kaufman County representative's question on a local road problem.

"We will not be limited in our thinking by precinct lines," Thornton said. "We are proud of our farm-to-market road system in Texas. There is about 22,000 miles built or under construction. It is high time to start connecting these roads."

Thornton said that federal aid for roads has been increased for next year, and with matching funds, Texas' highway program will expand by $35 million a year.

Inspection Stickers

There are 2,650,000 vehicles in Texas that have passed the automobile inspection test — but a quarter of a million cars are going around without the required stickers, according to the Department of Public Safety.

Automobiles lacking the evidence that they have been inspected will be sought out and the owners given warning tickets or court-summons tickets.

April 15 was the deadline for the automobile inspection.

Surplus Feed Grain

Advantages are to be had by sale of the government's surplus feed grain, says John C. White, state commissioner of agriculture.

Such sale, the commissioner believes, would result in bringing the cost of livestock feed down and would bring relief to the cattle-men's drought problems.

Speaking at Vernon, White said further that sale of the feed would also save the taxpayers many millions of dollars because the government would get a return from products that are now merely clogging warehouses where space is needed for new crops.

ONE VICTIM HELPS OTHERS

Providence, R. I. — When the picture of little Andy Charlette, 5-year-old polio victim, appeared in the newspaper, showing his tricycle smashed by youthful vandals, the response was so overwhelming that Andy received six tricycles, all gifts from strangers. Andy is giving his extra three-wheelers to other polio victims of his own age so they, too, can build up their bodies.

SUBMARINES

Apparently reluctant to put all its eggs in the atomic basket, the Navy has announced plans to start building two new conventional submarines—as well as a third nuclear-powered sub—during the coming fiscal year. The Navy has asked $9,870,000 for next year, despite the fact that navy and marine corps manpower will drop by 61,000 and the Navy will operate about 50 fewer ships. The Navy wants to earmark $840,000, 000 of the amount for 1,455 new aircraft and 30 new ships, including the third atomic-powered submarine and a fourth 60,000-ton Forrestal-class aircraft carrier.

FHA INQUIRY

The Senate Banking Committee plans a quick start of a "full and complete" probe of the Federal Housing Administration, with the aim of ferreting out "the facts and the truth" of charges that Federal Housing Administration officials allowed unscrupulous home-repair salesmen to cheat unsuspecting householders. It will also investigate allegations that slick apartment-house promoters — aided by either dishonest or inefficient FHA officials — pocketed millions out of Government-guaranteed loans pegged well above the cost of their projects.

One sign of good mental health, we're told, is not to let our emotions bowl us over.

Many of us can lay claim to having whipped some emotional upsets — such as those caused by love, jealousy, even anger. But hardly anyone we know can honestly say she never gets thrown by any of them.

Fear, in times like these, is chronic. Atomic weapons, enemy aliens, tornadoes — no one of these dangers is actually lightened by fear of it. If anything, they're increased because afraid we're more vulnerable. Once we can look at danger without panic, we're much more likely to act intelligently.

Two of the most workaday emotions — guilt and worry — are the two we'll most likely give in to.

We live with a guilty conscience, yet half of the time we aren't at fault. The baby trips over a toy and skins his noggin. We should have noticed that danger, we tell ourselves guiltily. The spouse comes home from work with a headache. We should have reminded him to wear a hat because the air is colder. We borrow guilt because we're distrustful of our own judgment.

Worry is another overworked emotion, yet there's hardly ever anything to be gained by it. We know one man who goes to a murder mystery movie to get rid of worry. Then, he says, his own problems seem so simple by comparison that he gets back his perspective. Another, who works with people and ideas, says he likes to paint a fence, build a shelf or mow the yard when he's worried. A job so easily brought to a successful conclusion reassures him, and he no longer feels inclined to worry.

Maybe the mental hygienists shouldn't deprive us of our emotional upsets — it tests our ingenuity so to restore emotional balance.

Hearing Is Common Defect Which the Schools Combat

Dr. Crannell Tolliver, of the Speech Department of West Texas State, was in charge of the Rotary Club Tuesday, discussing the work of his department in testing the hearing of 3,000 adults and children during the past two years.

Dr. Tolliver called attention to the fact that three weeks had been proclaimed for this week, including Music Week, Mental Health Week, and Hearing Week. The latter two are closely knitted together.

Hearing Week is not as dramatic as some of the other drives for public funds, but there are between 3 and 5 million school children afflicted, with more than 5 million adults. Poor hearing is known to affect the school work of children and to impede business with adults.

Fifty per cent of the adults afflicted with ear trouble might be saved if proper preventions had been taken. All school children in Dalhart were tested last year, with 10 cases being pronounced as serious. Another test was made again this year in that school. Many school children in Canyon had been tested. All should be given a complete test.

A chart and model of the ear was shown, giving a graphic picture of the intricate complexion of the ear.

Some one has sold the American people on the advantages of seeing their dentists twice a year. Some one should start the movement of "Seeing your doctor for a complete physical examination every year," stated Dr. Tolliver. An audiometer was shown, which gave the various tones at which sounds should be heard. Twenty guests were present.

Sunday guests in the Gene Root home were Mr. and Mrs. James W. Richardson and sons and Pvt. Harold Root. Mrs. Richardson and children remained to visit several days. Pvt. Root has left to return to Ft. Bliss via San Marcos to visit for a few days.

Inspection of Cadets Tuesday

Annual "Federal Inspection" of the West Texas State College Reserve Officers' Training Corps unit will be held Tuesday, Col. Raymond H. Lumry, professor of military science and tactics, has announced.

A team of four officers from the Texas Military District will make up the inspection board which will visit classes, inspect facilities and check administrative and supply procedures. A conference with President James P. Cornette will be held at 9:30 a. m.

The inspection team will inspect the ranks of cadets at 1:30 p. m., with a review of the corps to follow. The public is invited to attend the review, which will be held on the field north of Buffalo Stadium.

Heading the inspection board will be Col. Thomas C. Green, deputy chief of the Texas Military District for ROTC. Others are Majors Edward S. Saxby, Louis J. Schelter, Jr., and H. G. Thompson.

Colonel Green, before being assigned the post to coordinate the 59 ROTC units in Texas high schools and colleges, served in the Far East Command in Tokyo and Korea. Col. Green engaged in seven World War II and three Korean campaigns.

Official Memorandum

BY ALLAN SHIVERS, Governor of Texas

GREETINGS:

Among the leading factors in the growth of our state is the work that is being done through Chambers of Commerce.

These organizations have been able to perceive needs of their communities and areas and have assumed the responsibility of marshaling forces to meet these needs. They have served as promotional institutions to make known the virtues of their towns and cities as places for industries, businesses, homes, and installations. They have labored to encourage diversification, to promote productivity in agriculture and to conserve soil and water. They have fostered projects to enrich the culture of their areas, and have joined in the establishment of institutions which minister to the mind and spirit.

Chambers of Commerce are made up of businesses and individuals who give their time and money voluntarily to achieve the common goal of progress, freedom and happiness for their people.

NOW THEREFORE I, as Governor of Texas, do hereby designate the week of May 2 - 8, 1954, as in Texas and urge the citizens of our state to continue their support of their Chambers of Commerce.

In official recognition whereof, I hereby affix my signature this 22nd day of March 1954.

A tea-shower was given to honor Mrs. Aea Dooley Hendrix, Saturday afternoon from 2 to 5 o'clock in the lovely country home of Mrs. Earl Burtz. The home was decorated with spring flowers which carried out the bride's chosen colors of aqua and yellow.

In the receiving line were Mrs. Hendrix, dressed in a pearl gray ensemble with an aqua carnation corsage, Mrs. Milton Dooley, dressed in gray crepe with a pink carnation corsage, and Mrs. Earl Burtz, dressed in lime green with a yellow rose corsage.

Mrs. Toney Brown served at the punch bowl and Mrs. Gladys Haines presided at the guest book.

Audubon Society Members Tour Canyon Vicinity

Dr. Fred Baumgartner, ornithologist of the Oklahoma A. and M. College, Stillwater, and Mrs. Baumgartner were leaders and special guests of an expedition of members of the Amarillo Audubon Society and some of its Canyon friends last Saturday.

Starting at 6:30, the party met at the entrance of Palo Duro Park, then spent five hours observing birds in the canyon. Fog and overcast skies seemed to make the birds more active than usual and many were seen. Various hawks, turkey vultures, woodpeckers and wrens were most numerous.

During the afternoon the party visited Buffalo Lake to observe water and margin birds to be seen there.

Dr. and Mrs. Baumgartner had not visited this immediate section of Texas before and they found its birdlife most interesting.

Those in the party included, from Canyon, Mr. and Mrs. Joe E. Bailey, Woody Pond, Charles Wright, Mrs. T. V. Reeves, Misses Ruth Lowes and Darthula Walker, Mrs. Joseph Findley, Vigo Park, Mrs. Dale Foreman and Doyle Foreman; Dumas, Mrs. S. Pruitt.

Muleshoe, Jim Harman; Amarillo, Mrs. L. A. Moyer, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Peterka, Mrs. I. D. Acord, Joe Browder, Mr. and Mrs. Saul Kaye, and Mr. and Mrs. B. W. Van Noy.

Next meeting of the regional Audubon Society will be held in one of the film rooms of West Texas State College library on Monday, May 10. All Canyon people who are interested in birds and in wildlife conservation of all kinds are invited to attend the meeting.

Two colored moving pictures, secured by Mrs. W. L. Smith of the film division, one showing common birds in winter and the other showing the lives of five colorful birds will be shown, with comments by Joe E. Bailey and Charles Wright. Miss Sara Thompson will talk briefly about ways to see birds.

A visit to the West Texas Elementary School will give an opportunity to see some of the work of a Junior Audubon Society. This will be explained by Mrs. Earline Moreman who has sponsored this organization for a number of years. This will be the first time that the only Audubon Society in this region has met in Canyon.

Who Is Owner of Week's Mystery Farm?

Mystery Farm No. 47 presents a number of improvements, but the house was pretty well hidden by the photographer who took this aerial shot. The Canyon News hopes that the owner of this place will come to The News office and claim the photograph which we are giving free with each picture taken from the air.

Just Between You, Me . . . and the Gatepost

By Lawrence Hunnicutt

A large portion of the tax-paying public has a TV seat to one of the most expensive follies the government has ever sponsored, that of the Joe McCarthy and Army Secretary Stevens feud. The general consensus of the public is that the squabble is both useless and pointless. From time to time the participants of the squabble exchange positions so that both may receive an equal amount of TV time. The goings-on resembles a group of youngsters playing court in a game that could be labeled tricky questions and evasive answers. One thing the feud is apt to do is crowd that one of the Martins and Coys completely out of memory.

Getting back to the worthwhile things of life in our own vicinity we find Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Bullard spending last week-end in Littlefield. It was a special occasion for them as Mrs. Bullard was giving a musical recital.

Ivan is learning, as all young fathers are learning these days, that growing youngsters are fast learning cute methods of getting what they want. He gave an example of his little girl's technique last week. It seems that she starts out by telling him how good she has been and all of those she has been good to, then comes the grand finale of, "Do you have any chewing gum?" You have to be a pretty cold creature not to warm to an innocent childish request like this.

Sheriff L. S. Johnston is driving a new car these days. He says it seems that something is holding it back when traveling at 50 miles per hour. It's simply champing at the bit to go faster than that. Some people complain that they have trouble coaxing 50 miles per hour out of their car. Yes sir, it must be a really wonderful experience to have one of those new machines that you have to hold back rather than coax along.

One of the late developments on the east side of town is the transaction between Gene Davis and R. B. Allen. Gene is going over to Pampa to operate one of his company's stores there. Upon leaving he relinquishes his hold as the senior resident on his block. This vacancy will be filled by Kenny Goodman who was the second person to build a house on that block. Of course, it's purely an honorary position but it may be something that Mr. Allen would be interested in knowing.

This is the month that Pat Britain is celebrating his 40th anniversary. This is a long time to be in business in one place and congratulations are certainly in order.

Speaking of congratulations brings to mind some of the people who have moved into newly completed homes. Billy Brown mentioned at a Sunday School social a couple of weeks ago that he wanted to go to one of these new chillun dollar homes. The houses actually didn't cost this much but some of the people who have recently moved into lovely new homes include Mr. and Mrs. Don Standley, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Raillard, Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Harp, Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Bullard, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Wirt, and Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Hunnicutt. There are probably a number of others but these come to mind on the spur of the moment.

An interesting conversation was unintentionally overheard in Amarillo last week concerning Canyon. The two young men were strange to this area and one of them was telling the other about the entertainment in Canyon. He said the town was located about six miles south of Amarillo, had a girls' college and was "wide open." The boy who did most of the listening said he understood the college was for both boys and girls and that Randall county was dry.

The talkative boy quickly straightened him out on the situation. The college is strictly for girls and the town is wide open. He added, "You can do anything you're big enough to do in Canyon." Learn something every day, don't we?

THE MISTAKE

The girls at a restaurant table were discussing a shattered romance.

"It's all a mystery to me," sighed one. "All I know is that one afternoon at the office I got to thinking about him, so I wrote him a long letter, saying just what I thought about things, and I never heard from him again."

Disgustedly, her girl friend told her: "So you had to go and open your big typewriter!"

TOO GOOD TO BE TRUE

Blinks: "You say he has a wonderful wife?"

Jinks: "Has he?" "Say, she lets him have two hooks in the closet, two drawers in his chiffonier, all for himself."

LOST OUT

Wife (to husband inquiring what she thought of his speech) "You didn't make the most of your opportunities."

Husband: "What opportunities?" Wife: "Why, the opportunities to stop."

Randall County Should Vote "YES" For The Expressway!

The progressive citizens of Canyon are convinced the proposed Canyon-Amarillo Expressway offers a great future for our community. We have weighed the arguments, for and against the proposal. We have concluded the project is one Randall County can't afford to turn down.

Our county commissioners court displayed great wisdom in electing to impose the state law which calls for a two-thirds majority for the proposal, else our entire county financing structure would have been thrown out of kilter.

But the fact that a two-thirds majority is necessary makes it incumbent on every thinking voter to stand and be counted. We hope you will be counted with us.

The Express WILL:

1. HELP CANYON GROW

Canyon doubled in population after the Amarillo-Canyon Highway was paved; it grew still more when the present three-lane development was completed. With the expressway, there is every reason to believe this growth will be accelerated. Many people working in Amarillo will find Canyon a desirable place to live. Canyon, relatively free from parking problems, will become a shoppers' Mecca.

2. INCREASE SAFETY

On expressways already in use, the accident rate is one-fourth to one-seventh that of ordinary highways due to protection of through traffic from stopping, turning and crossing traffic. On a mileage basis, the four-lane section of the present highway has a worse accident record than the three-lane section. Mere widening is not enough.

3. HELP WEST TEXAS STATE COLLEGE

Facilities for quick and easy commuting will make it easier for Amarillo students to attend West Texas State College. An increased enrollment at West Texas State College, and increased attendance at college events, can be expected.

4. ASSIST FARMERS AND RANCHERS

Reduced travel time to markets and supply points in Amarillo will save money for farmers and ranchmen. Reduction in shrinkage of cattle being trucked to market will be a major saving.

The Express WON'T:

1. HURT CANYON BUSINESS

More people in Canyon will mean more business in Canyon. The Expressway will make it easier to get to Canyon. Families living in Canyon will spend their money in Canyon.

2. DESTROY PROPERTY VALUES

The many advantages of living in Canyon will appeal to many people working in Amarillo, creating increased demand for homes in Canyon. Increased values of land along the Expressway will more than offset the value of land needed for right-of-way.

3. CREATE EXCESSIVE COSTS

Tax cost for the owner of a $10,000 home, carried on the tax roll at $2,000, would not be more than $7 per year. On irrigated farm land, the increase would be about $22 per section. Taxes on a section of non-irrigated land would increase about $12.25 per year.

4. BE FORCED ON YOU

Randall County commissioners will have a part on the planning. The project is a partnership venture and the right-of-way need not be deeded to the state until Randall County is satisfied with the plans.

Around the Town..

There is no way of measuring the Joy and Pleasure; the Pain and Grief that a little child can bring to the human heart.

Perhaps the best way to help those who are ill is with cards and letters. These cheerful messages can be read again and again, and help as treasures.

Mrs. Billy Schmitz once said: "There is no use denying it, every child is part angel, and part demon."

Truer words were never spoken.

It is the patient labor of ordinary men and women repeating their daily, monotonous tasks, always a little better, a little more intelligently, which make our world—not perfect, but livable. Laboriously, stone by stone, they build the fort. It is up to us to hold it.—I. A. R. Wylie.

How fast this year is passing! It is hard to realize that school is nearly out. School plays, recitals are in full swing. Soon we will miss the cheerful laughter, the boisterous shouting of the troops of happy children going to and from the schools.

The poppies in the yards of Mrs. H. A. Brown and Mrs. Thos. B. McCarter are beautiful. The rains came just right for them.

There are many beautiful beds of iris in bloom. Mrs. Rhome Mobley has some lovely ones.

People you like to know—those whose untiring efforts throughout the years have added much to the development of this community: Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Thompson, Dr. and Mrs. J. A. Hill, Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Burrow, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Warren, Dr. and Mrs. L. F. Sheffy, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Graham, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Gooch, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Murray.

When the Allies entered Berlin in World War II and captured the government documents in the German Chancellery, one of the most significant was a directive, signed by Hitler, which called for the complete extermination of Christianity, branding religion as the greatest enemy of Nazism.

"Television is where old picture shows go when they die," —Wes Lizard.

Times have changed: The child today who isn't having his teeth straightened or is wearing glasses feels abused.

Whatever else one may think of the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt, he uttered a sound, philosophical and psychological truth when, in his first inaugural address he said: "What we must fear most is fear itself."

Canyon's "Cook of the Week" is Mrs. Ona Mae McMurray. She was nominated for this high honor by her sister, Mrs. J. Lee Allen.

Miss McMurray entered a Chocolate Peanut Butter Pie with the following recipe:

CHOCOLATE PEANUT BUTTER PIE

CRUST: (for an 8-inch shell) 1 cup sifted flour, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1/2 cup shortening, 3 to 5 tablespoons ice water. Sift one cup of flour, and then sift the flour and salt together. Add the shortening by blending in half of it, then add the other half to blended mixture. Do not blend too finely on the second mixture; leave lumps as large as English peas because this will add to the flaky texture of the crust. Sprinkle the cold water lightly over the mixture — just enough to make the dough stick together blending a few drops at a time until dough can be pressed into a ball. Roll out on LIGHTLY floured board to the desired thickness. Place loosely in pie pan, and prick with a fork to prevent puffing. Bake in 450 degree oven for 12 to 15 minutes. Let cool before adding filling.

FILLING: 1/2 cup sugar, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 2 tablespoons cornstarch, 1 tablespoon flour, 2 cups milk, 2 egg yolks, 4 tablespoons peanut butter, 1 tablespoon butter, 1 teaspoon vanilla. Use double boiler, and bring two cups of milk, sugar, salt, cornstarch, flour, to a boil over low heat, and boil for four minutes, stirring constantly. Slowly beat a little of the hot mixture into the two well-beaten egg yolks that have been mixed with the peanut butter. Then combine with mixture in double boiler and cook over boiling water for 10 minutes, stirring occasionally. Remove from heat, blend in butter. Cool (may cool in pan of ice water if hurried) and stir in vanilla. Pour into cooled baked pie shell.

MERINGUE: 2 large egg whites, 1/4 teaspoon vanilla extract, 2 tablespoons cocoa, 6 tablespoons sugar. Mix sugar and cocoa well. Beat egg whites until stiff. Add cream of tartar before egg whites are too stiff. Gradually add cocoa and sugar mixture until mixed well. Add vanilla. Pour over the filling and bake in 450 degree oven until golden brown. Let cool at room temperature.

Jennings - Axe Wedding Ceremony Read in Beautiful Church Setting

MRS. MARVIN LYNN AXE

Nuptial vows were solemnized Tuesday evening, April 27, at 8 o'clock for Janie Fay Jennings, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Jennings of Canyon, to Marvin Lynn Axe, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Axe of Dimmitt. Rev. Strauss Atkinson read the double ring service in the First Baptist Church.

The setting for the ceremony was a background of Jade palms centered with a large Gothic arch decorated with salal foliage and white Marconi daisies. Immediately behind this arch was another arch of white satin flanked on either side with drapes of white satin extending the full width of the church. At each gaffer of the satin drape was placed a seven branched candelabra. Each candelabra was decorated with salal foliage to match the center arch.

On either side of the central arch were large baskets of white gladioli and white mums. Also in the background were tall standards of white gladioli and white mums. The setting was completed with large arrangements of white gladioli in the foreground at the extremes of the wedding party.

The bridal aisles were decorated with single candelabra decorated with garlands of greenery and white Marconi daisies.

Miss Laura Smith, organist, played as a nuptial prelude, "Because," "Clair de Lune," and "Indian Love Call." She also accompanied Mrs. James Inman of Lamar, Colorado, who sang "Through the Years" and "I Love You Truly." "O Promise Me" was played for background music during the exchange of vows and the traditional wedding marches were used.

Mrs. Bill Cleavinger of Topeka, Kansas, sister of the bride, was matron-of-honor. Her gown was of ice green nylon tulle over taffeta with strapless ruffled bodice complimented with a tulle stole and a floor length bouffant skirt with inserted side panels of ruffles and small satin bias folds with a wide satin sash. She wore a half hat of ice green satin with scattered rhinestones on the veil which was held in place with corded bow from the back, nylon tulle mitts completed her costume. She carried a crescent cascade arrangement of pink Marconi daisies and Frenched pink carnations.

As flower girl, Kathy Hufnagle wore a frock of ice pink tulle over taffeta with an off the shoulder bodice and puff sleeves. Her costume was styled identical with the matron-of-honor's. She carried an ice green flower basket fashioned of tulle and satin filled with pink rose buds.

Weldon Warren of Dimmitt served as best man. Ushers were Bill Cleavinger, of Topeka, Kansas, Jerre Inman of Canyon, David and Zane Axe of Hereford.

Given in marriage by her father the bride was attired in a gown of Chantilly lace and white bridal satin. The lace theme was carried through with soft lace panels extending near the bottom of the skirt and train. The fitted lace sleeves extended into points over the hands. Her finger tip veil of English illusion fell from an intricately designed tiara trimmed with beads, pearls and rhinestones. Her bouquet was a cascade arrangement of white roses and stephanotis accented with green rose foliage and showered with white satin streamers tied with love knots and stephanotis.

She had the traditional something blue, a sixpence in her shoe and for something old she wore a locket which belonged to her paternal grandmother; borrowed a handkerchief from Mrs. George Grogan, aunt of the bride, and one from Mrs. Andy Axe, aunt of the groom.

Mrs. Jennings, mother of the bride, wore a pink lace dress with pale blue accessories. Her corsage was Pinocchio roses. Mrs. Axe, mother of the groom, wore a navy blue sheer dress with pink accessories and her corsage was also Pinocchio roses.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the Fellowship Hall of the church. Laid with a white linen cloth the table was centered with pink roses and frosted green fern in a crystal bowl flanked by white candles with pink tulle bases in crystal candelabra. The tiered wedding cake was served by Mrs. James Jennings and Mrs. Jozach Byrd. Mrs. Fred Axe of Dimmitt and Mrs. Roy N. Byrd, Jr., presided at the punch bowl.

Miss Sally Jennings secured names for the guest book.

Other members of the house party were Misses Peggy Bonds, Janice Thomas, Elaine Cundiff, Annette Meyers, and Mesdames Blaine Hufnagle, M. B. Brown, Earl Burtz, George L. Grogan of Amarillo and George Edmonds of Happy, and Miss Helene Meyer who furnished background music during the reception.

The bride chose a pink sheath dress with matching coat and pastel blue accessories for traveling. Her corsage was white rose buds.

Mrs. Axe graduated from Canyon High School and is enrolled at West Texas State College.

Mr. Axe graduated from Dimmitt High School and attended West Texas State College. He has completed eight weeks basic training at Ft. Bliss and is to report to Ft. Sill for training in Supervision Artillery School.

Upholstery Work To Be Displayed

In observance of National Home Demonstration Week, Randall County Home Demonstration Club leaders will exhibit furniture they upholstered in training schools conducted in April. The exhibit will be held in the display room at the West Texas Motor Company in Canyon.

Every club in the county had leaders trained in upholstering in April by the Home Demonstration Agent. Thirteen chairs and a studio couch were upholstered. These pieces were stripped to the frame and completely re-upholstered. They will be on display.

The public is invited to visit the exhibit between 10 a. m. and 5 p. m. Saturday, May 8.

The national home demonstration theme is "Today's Home Builds Tomorrow's World" and the special Texas theme is "Home - The Cornerstone of Freedom."

Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Walker left Thursday for a short visit in Missouri. They are expected home today.

The Eagle's Tale

28th Year

Published by The Canyon News for Canyon High School

We Salute You

Teachers of Canyon High School we salute you for all you have done for us this year.

As the year nears its end we look back upon the trouble and disappointments we have piled upon your shoulders. All the extra work you have had to do and all the inefficiency we have created is discouraging.

You have been very cooperative and we, as students, are grateful. We are thankful that we live in a free country and can go to the public schools taught by trained teachers.

In spite of after-school activities and special instruction and make-up work you have always come through with smiling faces. It is the smiling faces that have brightened our lives and helped us through the days. Times when we are down and out it is your warm smiles and encouraging words that have given us the strength and courage to finish the tasks set before us.

Teachers, to you we offer our heartfelt thanks and unceasing praise for all that you have done for us and may we live up to your highest expectations.

Cease Your Worry

Worry is an ever-present enemy of human happiness. It stands in the way too often when we might otherwise be enjoying ourselves. If our everyday existence is going well at the moment, we are concerned about what may happen later.

Do you worry about whether or not you will pass English, algebra, or history? Probably you have at one time or another, however, don't sit around worrying about it, but take action. Plan your work and study it daily, for the worst moments of worry are those which come when we aren't at work.

To fret and worry may be an indication of weakness. If you can't change unfortunate circumstances, accept them and do your best. Don't permit yourself to think of what might have been if these conditions had not developed. They did develop and are a part of your life. The strongest and most contented men and women are those who can adjust quickly to unfavorable conditions over which they have no control.

Musical Notes

BAND PICNIC TOMORROW

Plans are being made for a band picnic to be held tomorrow evening. There will be a meal of hot dogs, potato chips, cookies, pickles, and cold drinks. Organized games, hiking, and loafing are on the agenda for the evening's activities.

MUSIC BY REQUEST

"Music by Popular Request" is the theme of band music the last few weeks. Members request the number which they want to hear and it is played. These numbers range from jazz to classical. Some of the music is from shows and Broadway production. Sousa's marches are also in demand. Some of the numbers are "Carousel," "South," "St. Louis Blues," "King Cotton March," and "Washington Post March."

BACCALAUREATE SONG

The choir has been working on "Ye Watchers and Ye Holy Ones" for Baccalaureate services. This song is almost a tradition among high school choirs who sing for commencements.

Water, water everywhere
And all the clothes did shrink,
Water, water everywhere
But not a drop to drink.

That was the story in dear old CHS last Tuesday when those seniors went into their second childhood for the annual "Kid Day." Ole Cal thinks this could better be called "Water Day" because of all the water guns, balloons, etc. Betcha the water reserve was the lowest it's been since the water shortage last summer. Just ask the girls. They got it all. The teachers didn't miss any of it either. Mrs. Simms' blackboard or greenboard looked like it had caught measles.

Those little girls did look cute though. Most of them looked more like fugitives from the Copa chorus line than little, sweet, innocent little girls. The boys looked and acted like the little monsters they really are deep inside.

Old Cal thinks that the people have more fun watching than the seniors do. Just ask any senior how he felt after "Kid Day" was over. They are getting too old to do such strenuous things.

Back in old Cal's day they didn't have a silly thing like "Kid Day." We had an interesting, educational thing that we called our "Culture Pageant." We boys shined our shoes and wore our best suits and stiff collars. The girls got to wear their Sunday dresses and even their bustles.

We started the day with a lecture on "How to Easily Extend Three Fingers While Attending a Tea" which was followed by a tea so we could try out the new things we had learned in the lecture. Ole Cal spilled tea all over the teacher and she got sorta peeved. She didn't really get mad till she got fired for screaming and jumping in the principal's lap at the formal dinner when I spilled the gravy down her back. Well, anyway, after dinner we went to the auditorium to hear recordings from operas. Everyone was about to go to sleep when ole Cal got kinda sick and had to run up the aisle.

After school the school board had a meeting and decided that they should keep the teacher and do away with me. Well, two weeks later they let us both back in.

I know that you kiddies can easily see the advantages of our day over yours so why don't you see if you can change your "Kid Day" to "Culture Day?"

DELMAR YARYAN

Yaryan To Enter State Track Meet

Delmar Yaryan, Jamie Airhart, and the coach, Guy T. Harrison, left today to attend the Inter-School League State Track Meet. Delmar will participate in the broad jump competition, which he won at regional with a record breaking leap of 22'2 1/2". The record jump of 22'3 1/2" set by Max Minor of Tahoka in 1940 has been standing for 14 years, and has stood up against a great many athletes.

The new record set by Delmar broke the record by two inches. It may not stand as long as the old one did, but we are very proud of it.

Delmar was born March 27, 1936. He is 5'11" tall and weighs 175 pounds. Before he came here he went to school in El Centro, Calif. His ambition is to graduate from college. His hobby is sports.

Football, basketball, and track are school activities he engages in, and back in California he belonged to FFA and the Varsity "C" Club. He plans to be a coach after he graduates from college, and WTSC is the college he has chosen.

BOY, 15, VICTIM OF 'TEEN GANG WAR'

Philadelphia, Pa. — A 15-year-old boy, Robert Blocker, died of gunshot wounds, shortly after he was hit by a bullet fired from a speeding automobile as he talked with two girls on a street corner. Police said it was the third such attack within 24 hours in what was described as a new outbreak of juvenile "gang warfare" in North Philadelphia.

Deaf Man Reads Own Sentence

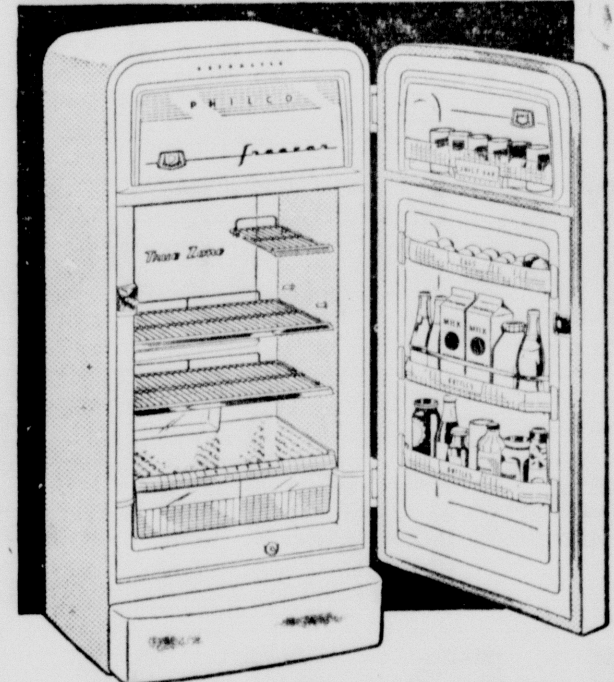

Huntington, W. Va. — Harold L. Hunter, 42-year-old man, who was convicted recently of arson, was handed a sheet of paper, on which two words were typed. They read: "Life imprisonment." Hunter, totally deaf, had been convicted three times previously, in 1931, 1933 and 1938.
